

Mayor, council at odds over Scafide reappointment

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

Bay St. Louis councilmen and Mayor Eddie Favre will go to court in what they termed at Tuesday night's council meeting as a "friendly suit" to resolve a problem over who has the final say in appointing some city officials.

The issue arose over the reappointment by Favre of City Attorney John Scafide.

Favre wants to reappoint Scafide, but the council balked at the appointment, voting two to three against him. Councilmen did not say why they disagreed with the proposed reappointment.

Councilmen Tom Farys and James J. Rutherford voted to confirm Scafide. Councilmen James C. Thrifflay III, Charles Scianna and Tad Black voted against the confirmation.

Favre, citing recent court opinions, stood by his appointment. Thrifflay said he felt it would take about six weeks to get a ruling by a judge on the suit.

Favre cited a Leflore County Chancery Court ruling that said a mayor under the mayor-council form of government, which Bay St. Louis uses, has the authority to appoint the city attorney, city judge and city prosecutor and defender.

Favre said if that were not the case, a disagreement over those appointments could leave them vacant and the city without legal representation when needed.

WASTE MGT. DISTRICT

In other matters, the council voted to take under advisement a recommendation by utilities director Lee Fillingame that the city join a proposed waste management district with the county and Waveland.

"I recommend that we join the district," Fillingame said. "It involves no obligations on our part, and it will always give us an alternative."

Hancock officials are exploring the possibility of setting up a district to come into compliance with federal regulations requiring estab-

Administrative raises on hold at Hancock

BY LIZ HAAS

Members of the Hancock County School Board argued with superintendent Myrna Bourgeois over proposed administrative raises in the 1993-1994 budget.

Board members felt the scale was top heavy for administrators.

Of the proposed administrative increases, Bourgeois' proposed salary would increase from $53,000 in the 1992-1993 budget to $61,214 for the 1993-1994 budget.

Carol Bustetter told Bourgeois, "We need to reduce these administrative salaries."

We don't want to be top heavy, because you will have to explain it to the public and teachers."

"I can't understand and accept increases of 3, 25 and 30 percent," said board member Kay Sones.

Board members felt they should meet again before the 15th, when the budget is due at the state department, to work on administrative increases.

"This has to be signed tonight to get it off to the state department and to have enough time to publish it in the paper as required by law," said Bourgeois.

"I'm not going to let this rushed time frame make me accept this unacceptable salary scale increases," said Sones.

The board discussed accepting the budget without the salary scale or a possible across-the-board raise.

"You can't just grab figures out of the air," said Bourgeois.

"I recommended the budget, salary scales and job descriptions as a package and will withdraw my recommendation if it is not accepted as a package," said Bourgeois.

"This is not a package deal. You are trying to force this

Kiln resident protests cost of trailer tag

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

Does Arthur Leineweber's travel trailer become a motor home when he hooks his truck to it and drives off down the road? Or, does it just remain a trailer?

Leineweber says it's a motor home. The State Tax Commission says it remains — just a trailer.

The issue has become an obsession with the Kiln resident who has been battling state tax officials over a year over interpretation of tax laws concerning payment of sales taxes on a travel trailer he purchased.

He says that, so far, he has received no satisfactory answer to his question about the inter-

Waveland gas line ignites

BY LIZ HAAS

Waveland firefighters worked for more than three hours Tuesday to extinguish a natural gas line that ignited at a Waveland Avenue residence.

The Waveland Fire Department responded to a report 1:26 p.m. Tuesday of a gas line that ignited at 1519 Waveland Ave.

David Caughley of New Zealand, visiting his brother-in-law, was mowing the grass when a natural gas line ignited.

"Natural gas will ignite between a 4.5 and 14.5 percent mixture of air and gas," reported Waveland Fire Chief David Lizana.

He said when the accident occurred, it was the right mixture which caused it to ignite. "This doesn't happen real often," he said.

Two fire engineers and six firefighters from the Waveland Fire Department were on the scene within three minutes.

There were no injuries in the accident, while the house received some heat damage.

"We took special precautions to protect exposure of the house as well as power, cable and TV lines," said Garcia.

He said they let the fire burn until the pressure dropped low enough for a safe working condition. Representatives from United Gas Pipeline brought a crimping tool from Bogalusa, La.

"When we got the pressure and the heat down, we were able to dig up the main, crimp the line, put the fire out, turn the valve off, cut the service line off and cap it," he said.

Garcia reported the department had consid-

Groundbreaking set for Pass Habitat for Humanity home

For many low-income families, owning a home of their own is an elusive dream. Thanks to BellSouth, the local Communications Workers of America and the Telephone Pioneers of America, a Pass Christian family soon will own a Habitat for Humanity home.

Telephone Pioneers of America — Gulf Coast Council and members of the Harrison County Habitat for Humanity affiliate will break ground July 10 on a house for an area family.

BellSouth is the first corporate sponsor of Habitat for Humanity, a non-profit organization that helps build homes for needy families. Since the sponsoring began in 1990, the company has raised funds for and built 50 houses.

"We are excited about BellSouth's role in helping us reach our goal of eliminating poverty housing," said Habitat for Humanity founder Millard Fuller.

Mike Ellsberry, project coordinator, an employee of BellSouth and a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, has been involved in a Habitat for Humanity project before.

"While building, you realize that you're working for a family; a family whose lives will be forever changed. In the course of building 20 houses, we changed over 20 lives. It's one of the greatest things I've done," he said.

"We welcome all people, all groups to become involved in this dynamic movement to assure everyone a decent shelter. BellSouth has helped to light the way for others to participate in this effort," Fuller said.

Thoughts for meditation:
 There is no creature, regardless of its apparent insignificance that fails to show us something of God's goodness.

—T. Kempis
 Thank you, Father, for your goodness that I see everywhere. Help me to remember that no one is insignificant in Your sight. Amen.

We Christians have no veil over our faces; we can be mirrors that brightly reflect the glory of the Lord. And as the Spirit of the Lord works within us, we become more and more like Him.

II Cor. 3:18
 Lord, help me to break through the facade and see myself more clearly. I want to reflect Your glory. Amen.

In Christianity, there are three R's: Relax in God's peace, Refresh in God's energies, Relinquish to God's wisdom and will.

There is much out of order in my life, Lord. I give it all to You and ask You to take all the fragments and remake them into a new whole. Amen.

When the Holy Spirit controls our lives He will produce this kind of fruit in us — love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, gentleness and self control.

board to accept this budget," said Lynette Necaise.

Board attorney Steve Benvenutti said Bourgeois could withdraw her recommendation, but the board still had the right to modify and/or adopt it.

The board voted 3-2 to accept the proposed budget, salary scales and job descriptions as presented with the exception to not accept the proposed administrative salary scale. They voted to keep the administrative salaries at the current 1992-1993 budget and to allocate $58,355 for administrative raises in the 1993-1994 budget to be apportioned at a later date.

C.B. MURPHY

The board discussed rumors concerning the district closing the Pearlington school, Charles B. Murphy Elementary.

"It is not my intention to close the school, nor will it ever be. We are working on a program to revitalize the school," said Bourgeois.

"I can't see that it would be feasible to close the school or to shift the students around. We don't have any room in the other schools," she said.

Bourgeois said with the growth in the county more students are coming into the school system.

The projected district expenditures are $424,213 for Charles B. Murphy; $1,194,287 for Gulfview Elementary and $1,601,836 for North Hancock Central Elementary.

NEW CASINO

Attorneys Ben Stone of Gulfport and J.P. Compretta of Bay St. Louis addressed the board on a proposed new casino to open off Highway 603 and the economic impact it will have on the community, and specifically the school district.

The Nevada casino investment group, operating under a partnership, Mississippi Investment Group, plans to construct a new gambling complex near the intersection of I-10 and Highways 603 and 43.

The casino, Mississippi Landing, will have to prove to the State Gaming Commission that the site is legal.

Stone said the casino will have 2,983 permanent ongoing jobs and peak at 6,043 at the construction level.

"This group is one of the most successful and profitable in Nevada, and they are more of a family-oriented type of casino," said Stone.

NEW OFFICE

Bourgeois asked the board to approve a letter to send to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors concerning a new district administrative building.

"The end of the lease for the superintendent's office is up in August and I am concerned about plans for a new office," she said.

Bourgeois' letter asks the supervisors for an administrative building to be built at the fairgrounds.

"They are preparing their budget now, and I think we need to be accommodated."

"There is sufficient room there and it is up to the supervisors to supply us with this building," she said.

The board passed a resolution authorizing Bourgeois to enter into negotiations with the board of supervisors requesting the fairgrounds site for a district administrative building or another suitable site acceptable to the board.

Bourgeois told the board U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor announced Suzette Burton, chemistry and advanced chemistry instructor, as runner up for the Teacher of the Year.

The board granted a one-time extension of six months due to wet logging conditions for the harvesting of timber located in Sections 19, 22 and 29, Township 6 South, Range 15 West by Gulf Coast Timber, Inc.

The board discussed a request by Bayou Caddy Casino to lease parking facilities at Gulfview Elementary School on the corner of Lower Bay Road and Lakeshore Road at times when not in use for school functions, mainly on Friday nights, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, with Bayou Caddy providing security and the necessary insurance.

The board attorney was directed to review the matter.

The board authorized the superintendent to enter into negotiations with Bayou Caddy Casino as to leasing the property, with any lease being approved by the board prior to execution.

The board rejected the final payment to Lincoln Builders for the Hancock High School and the athletic field house at the school as a result of a failure to fulfill the warranty obligation under the contract.

The board went into executive session to discuss personnel.

ishment of a master 20-year waste management plan by October.

Fillingame said the next step would be for the city to name a city representative, who would give input from Bay St. Louis into the proposed plan. He said representatives from Waveland, the county and Bay St. Louis would then study further the possibility of setting up the district.

Fillingame will meet with the council on Monday in a work session to further brief them on the proposals.

SIDEWALKS

On another matter, city engineer Woody Stieffel told residents attending the meeting that sidewalk projects are planned for Dunbar and Felicity streets. He said about $20,000 has been set aside for the project, which should see construction beginning in August.

Stieffel said the sidewalks are needed for safety reasons because of the high volume of pedestrian traffic associated with North Bay Elementary school, mostly children walking to and from school.

Stieffel said a current sidewalk project is underway on Demontluzin Street from Beach Boulevard to Touleme Street, and other sidewalk projects are planned.

N. BEACH CASINO

Questions on the sidewalks were asked by residents, mainly from the North Beach Boulevard and Felicity Street areas. The residents also questioned the council on rumors of a proposed casino on North Beach Boulevard at what has been termed the Raintree site.

They said traffic had already increased on the boulevard from tourists asking directions to Casino Magic. They said speeding along the boulevard was a problem, too.

City officials said that although various options had been taken on property in that area, no licenses had been issued for a development.

One resident asked Mayor Favre if he supported a casino at that site, and Favre replied that if all stipulations to a pre-annexation agreement were met by a developer, he would support it.

Replying to complaints about traffic, Police Chief Frank McNeill said his department was going to a zone coverage plan to increase patrols throughout the city.

He said Bay St. Louis would be separated into three districts. "It will be like a big city police department using zones, but in a small city," said McNeill.

"You will see more patrolling," he told residents.

The council adjourned to 5 p.m. Monday.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The long July 4th weekend brought a lot of visitors to Hancock County.

It has been a very long time since I can recall so many visitors to the area.

Visitors were greeted by sweltering temperatures, but this did not seem to dim the good times many of them had.

On Sunday there were a lot of fireworks exploding around the area.

I know my brothers and I popped our share of fireworks when we were younger, and this past weekend brought back many childhood memories.

The fireworks they pop today are not as loud as the ones we as kids were able to purchase. That is good, and they are also not quite as dangerous.

One of these days we will be getting our sand beach back, and then we will have many more visitors.

Visitors do help our area, because they mean jobs to so many of our residents.

The next big holiday to look forward to will be Labor Day weekend, and it is not to far away.

July is the month for new memberships and renewals of Mobile Medic memberships for residents.

Mobile Medic covers a household for all out-of-pocket ambulance expenses for a full year for only $42.

Mobile Medic has been providing a professional ambulance service for Hancock Countians for many years.

One never knows when there will be a need for an ambulance service. Accidents and sickness can occur at the least expected times.

Persons without a membership find out the hard way just how much they could have saved when they have to use the service.

If you haven't received an application, just call 1-800-677-1124, they will send you one.

I will renew my family membership, as I have done since Mobile Medic came to Hancock County.

In going back through the archives of over 100 years of The Sea Coast Echo, I can see where Hancock Countians have always come to the aid of those in need.

On Sunday, July 11 at the Old Smoke House, 6192 Lower Bay Road in Lakeshore, a benefit will be held to help with the medical expenses of nine-year-old Hannah Redford.

She was struck on June 1 by an auto while riding on her bicycle. She still remains in a coma at Ochsner Medical Center in New Orleans.

There will be live music, plate lunches, raffles and other activities from 11 a.m. until, with proceeds going toward the young patient's expenses.

For further information, call 467-5094, 466-2699 or 466-3280.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Coordinate efforts to improve county sewerage dilemma

Dear Editor,

The phone is a wonderful thing; however, the pen is still the mightiest. So many people are in an uproar about the "sewerage problem" in Hancock County and in the cities. Instead of so much verbal outcry, shouldn't this energy be spent documenting the problems, writing letters to our alleged public representatives and working on a solution?

At a public meeting Wednesday night, sound advice from a lawyer was given (free no less), document and research the statements and accusations, the response (and purpose of the meeting) was to collect money from people and sue!!

Would it not be more effective to channel all this negative energy in to solving the "sewer problem" instead of muddying the issues?

To the folks living in the cities, keep asking your questions about the new treatment plant expansion project, demand answers, talk to other agencies or professionals until you are satisfied that your questions have been answered and that all avenues of repair or upgrade have been investigated.

No matter what the problem, (sewage, ditches or roads) as a taxpayer, voter and intelligent citizen you need to go to public meetings of the ruling boards, and most of all, document your phone calls and incidents.

We must all participate in finding common sense solutions to our problems and not just wait for "them" to fix it.

Public denied information on Waveland's budget

To the Editor,

The meeting of the Waveland Aldermen and Mayor held July 6 was a clear example of why the City is in such dismal financial condition. It is too bad that more of Waveland's citizens were not present.

In the interest of avoiding the fiasco of last year's budget process (as you may remember, the mayor was successful in avoiding a meaningful public hearing) Alderman Stan Weidman made a motion that the city hold two budget hearings this year and that they be well publicized in advance.

Of course, the mayor objected and very predictably Aldermen Rappold, Colson and Hubbard went along with the mayor. Not only did these four thwart the right of the public to be informed; but, were so rude as to adjourn the meeting while Alderman Weidman was trying to explain his position.

I would hope that the people of Waveland realize that the first step in trying to control needless expenditures of city funds is to restrict how much can be spent through the budget process.

The only reason the administration will not reach the huge deficit projected in this year's budget is that all available funds have been spent and no ready means is available to raise more money.

The people have the right to be informed about their governments and have the duty to see that their elected officials are accountable.

Our beaches are beautiful— please keep them clean

To the Editor:

Thanks for coming to visit my shores over the Independence Day weekend. You played in my sand and swam in my waters. When it was time to leave, some of you left remnants of your weekend of fun.

I wanted you to know that I do not know what to do with the broken beach chairs you left. The fireworks will wash up on my shores and bring back the memory of you for months. The beer and soda cans remind me of the fun you had while you played in my sand.

You must have thought I was beautiful when you came to enjoy me. I want to know what you were thinking when you trashed my clean beach. I am here for the public to enjoy, but I will not be enjoyed by others when you fail to pick up after yourself.

I am looking forward to next week when the country workers will come and make me clean again. It is a shame that the taxpayers' money is spent to pick up your litter.

I will be here the next time you decide to enjoy me, but I implore you to save the taxpayers' money... take your trash home with you.

Three casinos are enough for county

Dear Editor,

I see the Mississippi Gaming Commission is asked to approve a casino site on I-10 and Hwy. 604-43.

With the Bayou Caddy project going ahead and the Diamondhead casino on the drawing board, I think three casinos will be enough for Hancock County.

If each one does as good a job as Casino Magic has done, our county will be very fortunate. Now we need a first-class hotel, so those who drive a long way to visit our county can have a place to spend a few days to see that Bay St. Louis has something to see besides gambling casinos.

Let's not be greedy and kill the goose that lays a golden egg.

Respectfully,
Nina S. Garcia

FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

By Governor
Kirk Fordice

And this, too, shall pass . . .

Early on Wednesday morning, the day after Pat and I announced that I had been diagnosed with prostate cancer, a one-page fax came across our office's machine. The message was handwritten with three simple, yet heartwarming, sentences inscribed. It read:

Governor and Mrs. Fordice, You are more than ever in our hearts and our prayers. We love and need you, and support you in this time of your need. Remember, God is still in charge — and this, too shall pass.

The message was from Dani Holmes of Raymond. I found out later Dani is a working wife and mother of five children. Yet despite her busy schedule, she found time to pass along to Pat and me one of the most important lessons we are sure to learn from this ordeal — "and this, too, shall pass."

On May 11, during a physical exam I was routinely tested for Prostate Specific Antigen (PSA). Almost a month later an ultrasound-guided prostate biopsy confirmed that cancer was present in my prostate. A week later, a bone scan, renal ultrasound and blood test verified the good news that there was no cancer present outside the prostate. At that time, I became a candidate for the surgical removal of my prostate. Pat and I decided that having the surgery would be best.

I will undergo surgery Aug. 25 at Methodist Hospital in Houston where my son, Dr. Jim Fordice, practices medicine. The procedure will require me to stay in the hospital about a week, spend two weeks recovering at home in the Mansion and then return back to full speed in about a month following surgery.

My condition was diagnosed at a fully treatable stage because of a simple new test called a Prostate Specific Antigen test. The test can detect prostate cancer at an early stage when there are no symptoms and no other test capable of detecting it. Prostate cancer strikes 1 in 10 males, and is even 48 percent more likely to occur in black males, but it can be handled if discovered early. That is why I strongly urge all Mississippi males over 50 to have this simple blood test done — it saved my life and it can save yours, too.

The past two weeks have indeed been difficult, but I consider myself truly blessed. It has been said that the people of Mississippi are a big-hearted people — and they are definitely proving this notion in my family's time of need. Hundreds of letters, telephone calls and faxes like Dani Holmes' have made their way to my office — each with a "Get Well" and a prayer for me and my family.

I have always considered the people of Mississippi good friends, but I now consider them part of my family. They have shared with me their faith strength and conviction in a time when I need it — and that is what a real family does.

In a speech in 1859, President Abraham Lincoln pondered the age-old phrase "and this, too, shall pass..." He said, "How much it expresses! How chastening in the hour of pride! How consoling in the depths of affliction!" It is indeed a consoling thought for me right now, and it is a thought that comes straight from the heart of Dani Holmes and the people of Mississippi — and it is to them I say — "Thank You."

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Taylor advocates fair trade

Recently we were all reminded by reports out of Washington that our nation's trade deficit continues to increase and, as a result, may weaken the American dollar.

This bleak news should come as no surprise. As an advocate of "Fair Trade" I have watched in recent years how our government gives foreign countries all the benefits of our market while the American worker is left carrying the burden.

For more than a decade our country's leaders and trade representatives have developed an idiotic notion that we can allow everyone else's goods in our country virtually tariff-free. But when tax time comes around, Uncle Sam taxes our manufacturers to the hilt. Where is the fairness?

When I talk about manufacturers most everybody thinks I'm talking about the big corporate giant who owns the factory. However, let's not forget about the small factories throughout Mississippi and the thousands of people who work in these factories. We know who these people are. Some of them are our friends. Some of them are our neighbors.

Just like you and I, Mississippi factory workers have to pay their car notes, their house notes and put their kids through college. Not only are their jobs important to our state and communities, but you could say these factories are one of our nation's first defenses in the fight to preserve America's manufacturing might.

If we are going to make our manufacturers pay minimum wage, workman's compensation and require them to live by our pollution laws, then we ought to tax the foreign countries that use our markets, use our highways, use our ports and use our airports to sell their products. I think we should tax them a "fair" amount to have access to our market. This is just common sense.

And quite frankly, our foreign competitors are playing Congress like a fiddle. They spend hundreds of millions of dollars in elections so they will reap the rewards while American business suffers. For example, the foreign car dealers spend $10 million in elections during the last Congressional cycle to elect their friends and defeat their enemies to make sure that they pay light tariffs. This is wrong. And I assure you, I have already cosponsored legislation this year that will reverse this injustice which has been heaped upon the American worker.

Congress is supposed to run this country for the American people and not for the importer. One reason we have this tremendous trade debt is because of the foreign influence on our nation's government. If we are going to ever get a grasp on the widening trade deficit, we have first got to put an end to the foreign influence and America's virtually "free" market.

pretation tax officials used to classify his travel trailer.

He charges that, on the surface, what the state does seems contradictory: Tax officials charged him seven percent sales taxes, placing his travel trailer, which has all the amenities of a house trailer and motor home, under the same classification as a boat trailer.

House trailer and motor home owners pay a three percent sales tax on their purchase. Leineweber has talked to county and state tax officials, legislators, and even the governor about the matter, all to no avail, he says.

So, why does he keep trying? "Of course, I would like a refund of part of the $770 I paid, but it is the principle involved," he says.

He adds, "I believe the state is wrong in its interpretation, and there are no excuses for not changing it. It's wrong, and they should not be charging the people for it."

In a nutshell, here is what Leineweber is mad about.

State use tax laws call for assessing motorcycles, mopeds, motor bikes, trailers (other than semi-trailers), boats and other equipment — all lower priced items — a seven percent sales tax, while aircraft, automobiles, mobile homes, motor homes, trucks, truck-tractors and semi-trailers — which cost much more — are taxed at a three percent rate.

Leineweber maintains his travel trailer, which is equipped with all the amenities of a house trailer or motor home, should fall under that classification and be taxed at three percent.

Tax officials interpreted his travel trailer as falling under the trailer classification and charged him seven percent.

Lester Herrington, deputy commissioner with the State Tax Commission, said Leineweber appeared before the review board and full commission with his complaint, and both ruled against him.

However, he said Leineweber's contention has some merit and that the commission would look favorably toward a change in the law. "However, that would have to be done with a legislative act," he said.

"It's a fine line, and I don't think the state would lose very much money on a change that would bring travel trailers under the same law covering motor homes," said Herrington. Herrington said that as laws are currently drawn, a travel trailer like Leineweber purchased does not fall under either the mobile home or motor home definition, which would have reduced the seven percent sales tax assessment to three percent.

"From a technical standpoint, we can't do what he is requesting, but from a common sense approach what he is saying has merit, and we are talking about the same unit," said Herrington.

Herrington said a three percent rate is applied to motor homes because they fall under the classification of a motor vehicle. Currently, a travel trailer is not classified as a motor vehicle. However, Herrington added, when you hook a vehicle to the travel trailer it essentially becomes the same type vehicle as a motor home.

"From a common sense approach, the legislature probably should address the issue," said Herrington.

DIAMONDHEAD PERFORMING ARTS

Excitement is building in Diamondhead as a New Orleans jazz legend, musician, writer, composer extraordinaire plans a performance Sunday, August 15 at the Diamondhead Country Club, presented by the Diamondhead Performing Arts.

They are expecting a total sell-out for this one, so send your check and a stamped self-addressed envelope in now to Carol Novak at Suite 701, 443 Yacht Club Drive, Diamondhead.

Tickets are $12.50 adults, include one drink, and $9.50 child (under 13).

Oh, those "Southern Nights!"

HEY, DIAMONDHEAD SENIORS

How about spending a part of your Friday visiting friends, reading, watching TV, oil painting, crafts and having a nice lunch?

The bus picks you up at the Diamondhead Dairy Queen at 8:30 a.m. and returns there about 1:15 p.m. You will enjoy.

DIAMONDHEAD FIRE DEPARTMENT

Bob Valigosky reminds us that the hurricane season is upon us, and we must be prepared.

Necessary items are: flashlight, new batteries, emergency cooking equipment, canned goods, manual can opener, plastic containers of water, and yes, if there is an emergency, try to conserve water.

If you plan to evacuate, please know your route plan before-hand, and allow time to reach your destination. Please, also have a plan for your pets.

Bob advises us to watch our speed limits when driving in Diamondhead. "Is it worth all the pain and suffering that's caused by reckless driving and speeding? A resounding no!"

Call Bob at 255-7198 to participate in the Litter Free for '93 program in Hancock County.

There are many roads, streets, etc. to be adopted in the clean-up program. Please pick up as you go.

OPEN HOUSE

Our great new commercial development of "Indian Hill" is now beautifully landscaped with palm trees and a variety of other plants enhancing the business of the Diamondhead Dental Clinic, where Dr. D. F. Matherson III presides, and the Diamondhead Specialists of Coast Delta Realty with Jon Ritten and his folks providing real estate services for their friends and clients.

The open house for both on July 1 was a huge success and topped off with a jazz band. Good luck to all involved in their "new digs!"

U.S. POST OFFICE

If you haven't visited Diamondhead's new postal facility right next to Coast Delta, stop in, say hello, and wish well

April and Brenda as they "hold down the fort," and are anxious to serve your postal needs.

DIAMONDHEAD STICKERS

Security requests that all Diamondhead residents and members have their appropriate stickers on their vehicles.

Please see Syble Paul at the POA office to obtain one. It is a very good way for security to keep track of who belongs and who doesn't, and is for everyone's protection. We owe so much to our fine security force in Diamondhead.

DYO SWIM TEAM

Our Diamondhead Volcanos are off to a good start with over 55 swimmers from the ages of 5 to 18.

Wednesday, June 16 the Vols hosted their first meet at the E. Rec. pool against the Biloxi Red Tide with outstanding participation.

On June 22 the team traveled to the Ocean Springs YMCA and won with scores totalling 269 to 174.

On July 10 the group will participate in the Relay Carnival at the Biloxi Natatorium.

Practice is held daily except Tuesday at the E. Rec. pool, 9-10:30 p.m. and 3:30-5 p.m. It's not too late to join, so come on out, meet Coach Lonnie Ray and give it a try.

Be on a winning team. Next home meet is July 20.

Special performance planned in August

SWIMMING LESSONS

The fourth and fifth sessions of Red Cross swimming lessons will be starting on July 12 and July 27.

Lonnie Ray, a senior lifesaver and water safety instructor, has taught swimming lessons to over 60 children so far this summer.

Call Barbara Gibbons at 255-7149 for details.

THOUGHTS

There is no better than "Here." When you're "there" has become a "here," you will simply discover another "there" that will again look better than your "here." Do not be fooled by believing that the unattainable is better than what you have.

MORE THOUGHTS

Remember, when you find yourself arguing with a fool, that he is doing the same thing.

Hope the rest of your summer is just wonderful, and the week ahead full of good things. Try and stay cool.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Now that the great Mississippi Deep Sea Fishin' Rodeo is over and done with, it is time to talk about the fishin' fun that is happening for those folks who don't have the multibillion fishin' rigs that go all the way to Cuba to fish. Whole big bunches of fish are being caught right here in our own backyard.

Tommy Kidd fished the area around Isle Le Pitre and murdered the trout and flat fish — "way to go Daddy-O." According to Tommy, there were four people in his party, and they came home with their limit of specks. They caught so many fish that they only kept the trout that went over three pounds.

All I gotta' say is that if they have to keep any trout under three pounds that the Turtle knows a good place to bring them if they don't want them. Life must be really tough to have to make decisions like that, Tommy. Anyway, the Kidd group said they caught most of their fish right at daylight by wade fishing.

The baits they said worked best were the super beetle and the mirror lure. I did not get the exact color of the body they were using on the beetle, but they said they were using the silver and the orange mirror lure. They claimed that both the floating and the non-floating mirror lures worked just as well.

The Isle Le Pitre area is located in the Louisiana marsh. It is the very last tip of the Louisiana marsh to be specific. It takes about a 12- to 15-mile boat trip across the Mississippi Sound to get to this area.

So it is always a good idea to check the weather before you go this far out in open water. On second thought, you only need to check the weather if you intend to get back home alive, otherwise don't worry about the weather.

Back to the subject at hand.

The way to get to the Isle Le Pitre area is to use a boat. Seriously, if you launch out of LaFrance Fish Camp in Ansley, you need to get to Light House Point on the south side of Herron Bay.

Take a compass heading off of 101 degrees from the point and you will end up in Creole Gap, which marks the west side of Isle Le Pitre. You might wanna remember that the way back from this spot is on a compass heading of 281 degrees. It is always nice to remember the way back.

To those folks who are gonna launch out of Bordages Fish camp in Lakeshore, you will need to take a compass heading of about 115 degrees from the mouth of Bayou Caddy.

When I launch out of Bordages and take the compass heading of 115 degrees, I usually look for the old white conservation camp that is located between Grand Pass and Creole Gap.

This camp can be seen from a long way off shore and makes a good aiming point if you are not sure that your compass is heading where you think it should be heading.

Creole Gap has a reasonably high bluff on its east shore that is made up mostly of shells. There are no groups of piling in the water on this shoreline.

I say this because Grand Pass has beaucoup plenty of pilings on its east shoreline. This is one way to tell if you are in the right spot. The shoreline in this entire area has been very productive over the past few weeks.

The fishin' along the seawall, and in particular wade fish, has been very productive for the past few weeks. The secret is still that you have to fish right at daybreak and from about six o'clock to dark. I know I said it before, but I will say it again: you can't expect to catch trout in a foot of water this time of year.

The trout are in about three to three and one-half feet of water. The most productive bait has been live shrimp.

I got to talk to a really nice young man, fishing for anything that would bite at Bordages Fish Camp. The young man's name was Garrett Powe. Garrett is nine years old and has definitely decided that fishing is better than school.

Garrett was unable to determine the limit on hardhead catfish, but he was sure that the limit must have been very high, because he was catching so many of them.

All the turtle has to say about this is that hard-head catfish have to be the savior of many a grandpa when the grandchildren need to catch a fish.

This week's wonderful wise words: You need a motor on your boat if you go to Isle Le Pitre.

What is the limit on hard-head catfish, Turtle?

Bay Thunder drops two to Hammond

Hammond exploded for three runs off four hits, two of which were for home runs in the first inning in action on Saturday.

Bay Thunder's pitcher settled down and retired the next eight of 10 batters before the thunder defense committed two costly errors and three unearned runs had scored in the fourth inning.

Adam Breerwood kept it close in the second inning with a homerun blast after a James Bishop walk.

John Dobson came on to pitch in the fourth inning and did an outstanding job.

Dobson struck out five and did not allow a hit. Thunder added a run late to finish with a 6-3 defeat.

In the second game, Thunder's top reliever Mark Dupuy started his first game.

Dupuy did a good job, but errors hurt again.

Hammond reached base with four hits and three Thunder errors and scored three runs in three innings.

Dupuy pitched nine and a third innings, struck out eleven batters and gave up one earned run.

Bishop came through by hitting his fourth hit of the weekend and collected two RBIs.

Thunder scored one more run in the fifth while Hammond added two in the top of the fifth. Hammond won 5-3.

Top hitters for Thunder were:

John Bishop, 4 for 7; two doubles, five runs batted in; John Dobson, 3 for 9; double, one run batted in; Adam Breerwood, a homerun, two runs batted in; David Weems, two hits.

Labat signs scholarship

He is a 1993 graduate of St. Stanislaus where he was three time boys doubles state championship in the 4A high school division.

Labat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Labat of Bay St. Louis.

Bay Thunder suffers 1st defeat

Bay Thunder was defeated on Friday night by Donaldsonville American Legion 9-5.

The Thunder came out swinging in the early innings by scoring four runs in the first two innings off two doubles and three runs batted in by John Bishop.

John Dobson added an RBI and Mark Dupuy added a base hit. The Thunder lineup did a good job of fighting off pitches and drawing walks.

Then the middle inning slump came.

Donaldsonville battled back with two runs off two hits and three walks in the third inning.

Donaldsonville then scored five runs in the fifth inning to go ahead: 7-5. The visitors then added two unearned runs off two errors in the sixth inning.

Platz earns casino scholarship proposed by OLA counselor

Andrea Platz, Our Lady Academy graduate of 1993, has received a $1,000 scholarship from Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis.

As proposed by Sally Harrison, OLA guidance counselor, Casino Magic agreed to award four $1,000 scholarships to a graduate of each of the accredited high schools in Hancock County — Bay High School, Hancock High, Our Lady Academy and St. Stanislaus. The scholarships are payable to an accredited college designated by the recipient in increments of $500 for the fall semester and $500 for the spring semester.

"The objective of the Casino Magic Community Scholarship Program," according to Harrison, "is to recognize and award student achievement."

The selection of scholarship recipients is based on scholastic achievement, leadership, and extra-curricular and work activities.

According to the proposal, eligibility for the scholarships requires that all students be residents of the U.S., attend an accredited Hancock County high school, and must have taken the ACT. Applicants may not be sons or daughters of an employee of Casino Magic.

The proposal recommends that a judging committee be selected by Casino Magic to determine the winners. The committee could be composed of individuals from the community and employees, or employees only, or local community persons only.

The initial contacts with Casino Magic about the possibility of scholarship monies being available to Hancock County high schools was made by Gloria Dean, counselor of Bay High. Casino officials agreed to consider a proposal for such a scholarship.

After an area meeting with the counselors, Harrison from OLA agreed to write and submit the scholarship proposal to Casino Magic.

Deen completes MSU program

Local educators have just completed a year-long program in which they designed and implemented portfolio assessment in area classrooms.

At an initial four-day October session, teachers from across the state examined student portfolios from a variety of grade levels and subject areas and designed portfolio projects to meet the needs of their own students and school districts.

At subsequent sessions throughout the year, teachers shared their students' progress and revised their portfolio projects to meet changing student needs.

At a final session in June, teachers used portfolios as assessment tools and begin to design other performance-based assessment events.

Participating was North Bay teacher Mary Kay Deen. The project was sponsored by the Mississippi Writing/Thinking Institute at Mississippi State University.
